Executive Committee – Docomomo International
Docomomo Council

Dear Executive Committee and Council members of Docomomo,

We hereby submit the application for membership of the prospective national chapter of Docomomo Uruguay within the Docomomo International.

This initiative comes from the School of Architecture, Design and Urbanism of the University of the Republic (FADU - Udelar) and some of its teachers and researchers. Through its teaching groups, in collaboration with other educational institutions and with several institutions related to the safeguarding of heritage, this School has been involved and contributed from very early on in the identification, research and promotion of Uruguay's modern architectural heritage.

Modern architecture is prominent in Uruguay. Since the first decades of the 20th century, Uruguayan architects have experimented with different forms of architectural modernity, often accompanying the political and social processes of building the welfare state of a young country. However, despite the efforts of the local academy to disseminate, document and preserve the main manifestations of modern architecture in Uruguay, modern heritage is still under appreciated by the general public and therefore, its legal protection is incipient. Although there are conservation programs for the Cravotto and Vilamajó museum houses by FADU Udelar or the declaration of the Church of Christ the Worker by Eladio Dieste as a World Heritage Site by UNESCO, there are still many valuable works, little known, undocumented and lacking adequate conservation, which contributes to the material and cultural degradation of society.

In this context, our objective, by forming a working group like DOCOMOMO URUGUAY, is to collaborate in the recognition of local modern architecture, as part of the country's cultural heritage, through the consolidation of research, communication and interventions on this subject.

The members of the working group of Docomomo Uruguay believe that the national and international appreciation of our modern architecture could be addressed more successfully with the support of Docomomo International. In addition, we are eager to learn and also to contribute to the transfer of knowledge to better understand the values of the Modern Movement in architecture.

We find our ideas and agenda fully in accordance with the Docomomo International Constitution and Statement, which we are happy to fully endorse and commit to.
On behalf of the Docomomo Uruguay Founding Committee,

DOCOMOMO Uruguay

2. Working program in the period 2026-2028

Background

The study and dissemination of modern architecture in Uruguay has its origins in the academic work carried out mainly at FADU Udelar. The institution, through its teachers and researchers, deepens the knowledge of modern architecture, documenting and disseminating it through publications and exhibitions. Within FADU, the Institute of History has an important documentary archive on modern architecture produced in the country.

The institution also has a leading role in the conservation of modern architecture, at the level of teaching, research and with specific actions. It has a postgraduate program dedicated to intervention in built heritage. It has representation in state and municipal heritage preservation organizations, is in charge of the management and maintenance of two house museums (Cravotto and Vilamajó), it has supported the UNESCO World Heritage declarations - among them the Cristo Obrero Church by Eladio Dieste - and provided comprehensive advice for the conservation of the Municipal Columbarium.

Some researchers and teachers from FADU Udelar tried to form in the past (2008) the local Docomomo chapter. But they could not sustain the working group over time, and the incipient chapter was soon dissolved. Despite these efforts, only a few modern buildings have been included in the heritage protection lists of municipal governments and the central executive branch. This highlights the lack of sufficient appreciation and knowledge of this architecture by the general public. Thus, many of these buildings are not in a good state of conservation or have been modified.

Objectives

The main objective of the DOCOMOMO URUGUAY working group is to promote and preserve modern architecture in the country.

To achieve this goal, the following specific objectives are outlined.

A - To constitute a meeting place for the academic and professional community that develops work and studies related to the experience of the Modern Movement in Uruguay, which will allow the promotion of research activities related to modern architecture and its conservation.

B - To develop and maintain a registry and inventory of modern heritage in Uruguay, based on the guidelines defined by the DOCOMOMO International Registry Commission, and thereby promote the incorporation of documentation and information on modern architecture in archives and documentation centers with public access.

C - To promote public recognition and conservation of modern architecture in Uruguay, as well as its consideration and protection as a Monumento Histórico Nacional (National Historical Monument) and/or Bien de Interés Departamental (Municipal Interest Declaration) by official institutions. Likewise, for cases at risk, to promote specific programs and projects for the recovery and restoration.

Actions

A - In the past years, there have been admirable individual efforts in documenting and researching the modernist heritage, mainly in the form of books, academic papers, master and PhD theses, exhibitions, etc. Although these efforts are mostly carried out by teachers and students of FADU Udelar, the exchange and synergy that would enable common research and action strategies has not yet been possible. In this sense, the DOCOMOMO URUGUAY group intends to organize spaces for community making in the form of biannual seminars on selected topics associated with the Modern Movement. The seminars are envisioned as knowledge-sharing platforms where researchers and practitioners -both local and international- would be invited to give lectures and/or present experiences related to the Modern Movement buildings.

B - The core of this work proposal consists of the registration and appreciation of modern Uruguayan architectural production. This involves the development of investigative work aimed at registering the corresponding building works and the generation of activities aimed at their social and academic appreciation. DOCOMOMO URUGUAY would also commit to enlarging the initial register, to include less known buildings and sites. Furthermore, we propose the recovery of relevant archives for the analysis of modern architectural production. This collaborative task with various institutional repositories - AGN, CdF, AGU, DDIH, etc.- includes the graphic material produced by architects in Uruguay between 1920 and 1980 approximately.

C - The registered works will be subject to a value-added policy that will be designed according to the specific situation in each case. This policy includes, in principle, the implementation of heritage declarations (adjusted to the legal figures of the country: Monumento Histórico Nacional and/or Bien de Interés Departamental), as well as the implementation of specific measures for restoration or building reclassification. On the other hand, a dissemination strategy is proposed to ensure the knowledge of the activity undertaken and developed by DOCOMOMO URUGUAY. Among the dissemination mechanisms, it is proposed to establish a website with a stable structure to be periodically expanded or enriched. Also, DOCOMOMO URUGUAY will constantly promote identifying, research and evaluation of 20th Century Architecture among the architectural profession and especially students of architecture. It will dedicate its efforts towards raising public awareness, promoting the modernist architecture in Uruguay, as well as presenting it internationally.

Organization

DOCOMOMO URUGUAY will have an organization and operation closely linked to the institutions that promote it: FADU Udelar, FA ORT, Comisión Nacional del Patrimonio Cultural, among other institutions interested. There will be different types of members, according to the precepts of the DOCOMOMO International: Individual, Student, Institutional and Corporate. The individuals will be the core of the organization and the institutional linkage will ensure its long-term sustainability.

DOCOMOMO Uruguay will be open to all people interested in Modern Uruguayan Architecture. Its highest body will be the plenary, and will be constituted of all members. It will also have an Executive Committee of five people, who will be in charge of the day-to-day management of the organization. This Committee will be elected by the plenary from among its members and this integration will last two years, after which there will be another election. The work of the committee will be honorary and its composition must contemplate the vast diversity of interests, institutions, generations and genders of its members.

The period 2026-2028 will host the appointment of the Committee and assignment of responsibilities that allow the development of the proposed activities.
